

Eolophus Roseicapilla

Description

The pink cockatoo (Eolophus roseicapilla) is a species of bird in the family Cacatuidae. This species is found over much of mainland Australia. They are found on land and were introduced to Tasmania, where its distinctive pink color and gray plumage and bold and large behavior make this cockatoo a familiar in the wilds. bushes and increasingly present in urban areas.